SPECIAL MINISTRIES RESTORE LIVES

JuJuan Robinson recalls her children's report cards from last year. "My kids were barely passing," she says. "They were so worried about the electricity being turned off and not having the supplies they needed for their classes that they couldn't concentrate on school."

Now her kids are participating in extra curricular activities and getting good grades. JuJuan attributes this to the help and support she received from St. Vincent de Paul. An evaluation of her income and expenses showed she was barely sustainable. Working with Janie Perdue, a case manager, she learned to plan and save money, as well as how to budget and prioritize her monthly spending. She also joined the Opportunities Program to receive employment counseling. JuJuan is now attending college and worked as a tax preparer during tax season.

"They are my angels," she says, with tears in her eyes, of those at St. Vincent de Paul who helped her get back on her feet.

Paul Van Proyen became homeless after being unemployed in his field for more than two years. He enrolled in the Opportunities Program to get back on his feet.

Homeless job seekers face many obstacles, including the lack of transportation, employment history, references, and job search and interview skills. The Opportunities Program helps overcome these obstacles. Clients work at the Society, volunteering in various areas to gain job experience, structure, and a letter of recommendation. They also attend motivational and life skills workshops, and receive mentoring, computer classes and on-the-job training.

"St. Vincent de Paul is truly a blessing. They truly care," said Paul. "The people who work in Special Ministries are a beacon of light, a source of hope, and a critical life support system for many people in Phoenix."

JuJuan and Paul told their stories at the Called to Care Community Breakfast held in April. More than $118,600 in gifts and multi-year pledges was raised to support the programs in St. Vincent de Paul's Special Ministries.

Every day, Special Ministry programs, such as those that JuJuan and Paul participated in, work to help people put their lives back on track.

OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM HELPS RESTORE LIVES –

Paul Van Proyen, a participant in the SVdP Opportunity Program, calls St. Vincent de Paul a critical life support system for many people in Phoenix. Participants in the program can use facilities to follow up on job leads, make appointments, and conduct job searches.

Visiting Those We Serve in Their Homes

Since beginning my work as a member of St. Vincent de Paul at St. Gregory's in the late 1980's, I have never known anyone who helped remind us of the importance of home visits better than Sister Mary Roqueta Zappia, R.S.M., who passed away on May 29 after having lived as a member of her religious community for almost 67 years.

Retiring from a full career at St. Joseph's Hospital, she earned a Master's Degree in Social Work and began working for our Society as a social worker and spiritual advisor in our Transient Aid Center. She also was a member of our Committee on Spirituality and a Spiritual Advisor for District 6 in central Phoenix for many years.

One of Sister's legacies was that she often reminded us that when we visit a family, we must find out what that family really needs. In one especially memorable visit, Sr. Roqueta came along to interpret. After interviewing the family, Sister Roqueta explained to us that the kitchen window had been broken and the family feared they would be evicted if the landlord found out. Sister turned to me and said, "She needs her window fixed," in a tone that I could not readily ignore. We replaced the window, much to the woman's relief. Sister always reminded me that, just like that visit, each home visit should be an opportunity to do a little more than is expected.

The families we visit are often preoccupied with many needs and anxieties that can't be expressed in a call to one of our parish conferences for food. While they may appear to be temporarily short of money and just in need of a food box, often the visiting Vincentians discover the family has greater needs than first indicated. Most people in need don't say too much about their situation over the phone when they ask for a food box, but will open up with the Vincentian visitors that are there to listen and help. Sometimes, even though there are not enough resources to resolve long-standing problems, saying a prayer with the family may provide real solace. Lonely people, especially the elderly, may need food but are really in need of a nice chat with others. Our personal visit may perk them up more than the food we bring.

We know that we can't resolve all the problems of the people we visit. But with Sr. Mary Roqueta's admonition in mind, we can try to look beyond that request for a food box and try to bring them more – Christ's love and hope.

Pre-Diabetes Program Helps Raise Healthier Families

More than 150 patients from the St. Vincent de Paul Virginia G. Piper Medical and Dental Clinic who were at risk of developing Type 2 Diabetes are now living healthier lifestyles after participating in Every Little Step Counts. The intensive pre-diabetes program teaches participants to understand their own risk factors for developing diabetes and setting goals to decrease the chance of developing it.

Individuals are identified for this program while visiting the clinic to seek care for other illnesses. Routine exams and lab work can identify those with glucose levels that are elevated, but not serious enough for a diagnosis of diabetes.

"We noticed that a lot of the patients who came in for other medical problems showed risk factors for developing diabetes," said Janice Ertl, Clinic Director. "We became so concerned that we implemented a pilot program in 2004 and it has become very effective, serving 150 clients so far."

Program members attend five weeks of classes to learn about nutrition, keeping track of food intake, logging physical activity, weight management, and meal planning. Patients also receive a pedometer to gauge and increase their physical activity. Weekly goals are kept by each participant.

After these classes, participants take a six-week break to put into practice what they've learned. Clients then return for follow-up, including lab work and evaluation.

"One of the benefits of the program," says SVdP nutritionist Yolanda Konopken, "is that these clients are taking the information home and sharing a healthier lifestyle with their families."

"The program has taught me to prepare healthier meals for my family," said Imelda Aguilar, a participant in the program. "I'm glad to be able to prevent this disease from affecting my children."

According to Konopken, 97 percent of participants in the program have been able to reduce their cholesterol levels and have reduced their body mass index an average of one point.

The Virginia G. Piper Medical and Dental Clinic is operated to ensure that low-income, working families who cannot afford insurance coverage have access to basic health care. More than 12,600 patient visits are handled each year by more than 160 volunteer physicians, dentists, and trained medical professionals.

"I'm glad to be able to prevent this disease from affecting my children."

OZANAM MANOR...

HEALING SHATTERED LIVES AND BROKEN DREAMS

SANDY AND JOE MADE A BIG IMPACT AT THE OZANAM MANOR CALLED TO CARE COMMUNITY BREAKFAST IN MAY

Sandy B. (left), a former resident of Ozanam Manor, spoke at the Called to Care Community Breakfast held for Ozanam Manor in May. Joe Garagiola (right) attended the event and was so moved by the resident's stories that he spontaneously began asking for donations from those attending. More than $188,000 was raised in gifts and multi-year pledges for the shelter – the only homeless shelter in Arizona for the elderly and physically or mentally disabled.

Sandy B. remembers spending her first night at Ozanam Manor without her children by her side. It was a gut-wrenching night. She was suffering from bi-polar disorder and had recently been divorced. She had also become homeless, and while she had found a good home for her children, there was no room for her. Ozanam Manor, located in central Phoenix, became her home. It is the only transitional housing program in Arizona for homeless people who are either over 50, or mentally or physically disabled. Run by the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, the shelter houses 27 female and 22 male residents. Approximately 175 people are served each year, with two-thirds moving into permanent independent housing.

“At Oz (as residents refer to the shelter), I discovered that other residents also had heart-breaking stories of shattered lives and broken dreams,” Sandy says. “We help and encourage one another.”

“All the encouragement I received helped me to be accountable to myself and others. I learned to make better decisions and become more self-reliant, helping me to get my family back together,” she said. “I thank God for those at Ozanam Manor. I wouldn’t have survived without their support and caring. My five months there were a life-changing experience!”

Residents at Ozanam Manor are provided with dormitory shelter, food, intensive case management, job skills development, resource referral, group activities and mentoring in a community setting designed to foster independent living skills. The environment at Ozanam Manor is nurturing, yet very goal-oriented. Residents assist with housekeeping, groundskeeping, and other duties to give them a sense of pride and foster a community atmosphere.

Ozanam Manor recently celebrated the success of Sandy and other residents at the Second Annual Called to Care Community Breakfast for Ozanam Manor. Jerry Burbach served as chairman of the breakfast.

More than $188,000 in gifts and pledges, including multi-year commitments, was raised for Ozanam Manor, including a $50,000 matching challenge grant from the Baptist Hospitals and Health Systems Legacy Foundation. “Ozanam Manor helps people improve themselves and put their lives back together,” said Gerald Wissink, the Legacy Foundation’s CEO. “We are proud to support this unique program.”

For more information about Ozanam Manor and to schedule a tour, please call (602) 495-3050.

Inaugural “Dine Out to Help Out” marks Hunger Awareness Day

Vincentians, volunteers, members of the public and new community partners came together in June to launch a new program to increase awareness of the Society and its role in addressing hunger issues.

The Society’s inaugural “Dine Out to Help Out,” to observe National Hunger Awareness Day on June 7th, brought Fuddruckers, Marie Callender’s, and Clear Channel Communications into the Vincentian family. The restaurants donated a portion of their food sales to the Society, while Clear Channel sent radio personalities to several of the restaurants to promote the event and publicized St. Vincent de Paul on its websites.

“Dine Out to Help Out” will be held each year to give people an easy way to make a difference in the community. “This event will get better each year, as we partner with more restaurants to make a bigger impact,” said Susan de Queljoe, Director of Community Relations for St. Vincent de Paul.

The timing of the event is key, since summer is a difficult time for families to make ends meet. Children are home from school and do not benefit from the free lunch program. Higher utility bills and gasoline prices are also keeping families stretched beyond their limits.

In Arizona, 12.5 percent of all households lack the resources to buy enough food to meet basic nutritional needs on a daily basis.

To help alleviate hunger, St. Vincent de Paul prepares 3,500 meals each day that are served in five dining rooms across the Valley – from El Mirage to Mesa, as well as 20 other non-profits in the Valley.

Fuddruckers donated 10 percent of all food sales on June 7th and Marie Callender’s donated 15 percent of food sales when customers presented a St. Vincent de Paul flyer during the week of June 6 to 12. Our thanks to Marie Callender’s and Fuddruckers!

To volunteer in our dining rooms, kitchen or food bank, or to participate in next year’s “Dine Out to Help Out,” call Liz Casey at (602) 261-6837.

“... an easy way to make a difference in the community.”

LASTING GIFTS

“My heart and soul is in St. Vincent de Paul,” said Barbara, a devoted Vincentian. “When I am no longer alive, I want to be sure that they receive some of our money.”

So in April, Barbara and her husband Bill met with the Society’s Executive Director, Steve Zabalski, and set up a Charitable Gift Annuity that would benefit St. Vincent de Paul upon their deaths. More and more people are discovering the surprising benefits of charitable gift annuities: they benefit both the donor and St. Vincent de Paul.

Charitable Gift Annuities give donors a tax deduction for their gift and a lifetime of fixed income at an excellent rate of return, with a portion of this income being tax-free. At the same time, they provide a lasting charitable gift to St. Vincent de Paul.

Between them, Barbara and Bill have been making home visits to the Valley’s poor each week for more than 46 years. “I have a great desire to do the work of St. Vincent de Paul,” says Barbara. Through their Charitable Gift Annuity, they help to ensure this work will continue to go on long beyond their lifetimes.

For more information about Charitable Gift Annuities or other financial planning issues, please call Steve Zabalski at (602) 261-6801.

Human Services Campus to Open in November

A new era of service to the homeless will begin when construction on the Human Services Campus is completed in early November. The campus will house several agencies that will provide services for the homeless and working poor.

“This is an exciting endeavor,” said Michael “Mike” McQuaid, the Managing Director for the Human Services Campus. “This is the first multi-agency project of this size that has been built from the ground up. We’re hoping it will be a national model for service to the homeless. In the long run, we’d also like each of the surrounding cities to develop similar models to serve the homeless population throughout Maricopa County.”

“The ultimate goal is to serve each client that walks through our doors,” said Mike. “All of the agencies involved can do it more effectively by working together on one campus.” As the Managing Director, Mike will oversee the day-to-day operations of the campus, including the Day Resource Center, which he describes as a “triage” area. Clients will be interviewed to assess their needs and then referred to the services available.

St. Vincent de Paul will open a new dining room, chapel, and meeting rooms in the new campus. Other agencies providing services on the campus are: Nova Safe Haven, which will provide services for the seriously mentally ill, St. Joseph the Worker, which will assist with job placement, and Maricopa County Healthcare for the Homeless Program which will address medical, social service and behavioral health needs.

“It’s great to be part of such a progressive collaborative,” said Steve Jenkins, President of the St. Vincent de Paul Phoenix Diocesan Council. “Together we can do so much more to serve the needy.”

The campus is expected to open with a ribbon cutting ceremony on November 7. Agencies will begin providing services shortly thereafter. The new St. Vincent de Paul dining room will replace the aging Henry Unger Memorial Dining Room on Ninth Avenue. To make a donation to help construct and furnish the new dining room, please contact Cynthia Bach at (602) 261-6884.

The Human Services Campus will be completed in November. St. Vincent de Paul, Nova Safe Haven, St. Joseph the Worker, and Maricopa County Healthcare for the Homeless will provide collaborative services for the homeless and working poor.

The Human Services Campus will open in November. St. Vincent de Paul’s new facilities – including a new dining room, chapel, barber shop, and office space are circled in blue. The new dining room is located at 1075 W. Jackson Street.

HIGHLIGHTS

Mayor Gordon visits St. Vincent de Paul's Watkins Center

Phoenix Mayor Phil Gordon urged people to donate new or used bicycles for the Society during National Bike Month in May. Neighborhood youths learn to fix bicycles in the Shifting Gears Program. The bicycles are then given to homeless individuals in the Opportunities Job Program as transportation for jobs and job searches. Nearly 100 bikes have been donated, with calls still coming in. To donate a bike, call (602) 254-3338 to schedule a pick-up.

A very happy birthday party for Jeff!

Arizona Corporation Commission Chairman Jeff Hatch-Miller, pictured with wife, Anita, celebrated his 60th birthday with more than 100 guests at the Society of St. Vincent de Paul. For information about holding a celebration or meeting at SVdP, please call Cynthia Bach at (602) 261-6884.

Dining room opened as overnight shelter

"It's great for St. Vincent de Paul to stay open for us," said Irvin Archer, "There aren't enough places for us to stay out of the heat." The Henry Unger Memorial dining room on 9th Avenue was opened July 27 as a temporary overnight shelter as a refuge from the intense heat. Diocesan Council President Steve Jenkins notes that more than 100 individuals find shelter in the dining room each night.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

My family participated today in the Hearts and Hands Day activities. This was our first time and what an experience it was!!! The three of us really enjoyed working in the craft center making Father's Day gifts for homeless dads. It also made us look really hard at ourselves and our lifestyle and how lucky we are for what we have. There are so many less fortunate than us and we really felt good after taking part today.

We are so thankful for all of you at St. Vincent de Paul. You are all God's angels serving our poor community. It takes someone with a lot of compassion and heart to do the things you do. We are most definitely looking forward to the next Hearts and Hands Day as well as possibly volunteering with any other services possible.

Thank you again and we look forward to seeing and working with all of you soon!!!

Sincerely,

Carmen Espinosa
